

CreatorOps Influencer Suite Terms of Service

Last updated: July 3, 2026

These Terms of Service govern access to and use of CreatorOps Influencer Suite, an influencer campaign management platform operated by Mipingplan.

1. Service Description

CreatorOps Influencer Suite helps brands and agencies manage influencer campaigns, discover public creators, prepare outreach, track campaign content, and generate performance reports.

2. Acceptable Use

Users agree not to use the service for spam, harassment, deception, impersonation, unlawful outreach, unauthorized scraping, or attempts to access private third-party platform data without authorization.

3. Third-Party Platforms

The service may integrate with third-party APIs and platforms, including YouTube, Google, email, search, and social platforms. Users must comply with applicable third-party terms, including the YouTube Terms of Service.

4. YouTube API Services

When the service uses YouTube API Services, it uses public YouTube channel and video metadata for creator discovery, content reference search, and reporting. Users should review the YouTube Terms of Service and the Google Privacy Policy.

5. User Responsibilities

Users are responsible for campaign content, outreach messages, advertising disclosures, data exports, and client-facing reports created through the service. Users must comply with applicable advertising, privacy, and platform policies.

6. Contact
